

Join the discovery, make global connections,
and be part of the International Polar Year!

PolarTREC • Teachers & Researchers Exploring & Collaborating
www.polartrec.com

Take your students on a polar science adventure with PolarTREC! Your classroom could be virtually transported to an icebreaker in the Bering Sea, a culturally and scientifically diverse community in Alaska, or a remote field camp in Antarctica sitting on over 3,000 meters of ice. Experience the excitement of the International Polar Year by reading journals, looking at pictures, listening to podcasts, and interacting with teachers and researchers working in the polar regions by asking questions online and joining Live from IPY! events. Check it out and join the teachers below on their upcoming expeditions at <http://www.polartrec.com>!

Bering Ecosystem Change

Craig Kasemodel, AK
March 11-26, 2008
Bering Sea

Greenland Atmospheric Studies

Craig Beals, MT
June 1-July 15, 2008
Summit Station, Greenland

Arctic Tundra Dynamics '08

Elizabeth Eubanks, FL
June 8-July 8, 2008
Barrow, Alaska

Changing Tundra Landscapes

Cathy Campbell, MI
June 14-July 10, 2008
Toolik Station, Alaska

Bering Ecosystem Study '08

Jillian Worssam, AZ
July 3-31, 2008
Bering Sea

High Arctic Change '08

Missy Holzer, NJ
June 8-August 6, 2008
Svalbard, Norway

Ocean Dynamics Beaufort Sea

Gerti Cori Ward, NC
July 16-August 21, 2008
Beaufort Sea

Nuvuk Archaeology Studies

Frank Kelley, VT
July 17-August 15, 2008
Barrow, Alaska

Kuril Islands Biocomplexity

Misty Nikula, WA
Dates unknown
Kuril Islands, Russia

Lake Ecosystems in Antarctica

Robin Ellwood, NH
October 2-December 2, 2008
Dry Valleys, Antarctica

Antarctic Undersea ROV '08

Cameo Slaybaugh, VA
November 1-December 15, 2008
McMurdo Station, Antarctica

Oden Antarctic Expedition '08

Jeff Peneston, NY
November 20-January 2, 2009
Southern Oceans, Antarctica

Antarctic Ice Sheet Studies '08

Jackie Hams, CA
December 8-January 12, 2009
West Antarctic Ice Sheet, Antarctica

Note: Expedition dates are subject to change. Please check www.polartrec.com for most current dates.

more information available at:
www.polartrec.com
info@polartrec.com or 907-474-1600