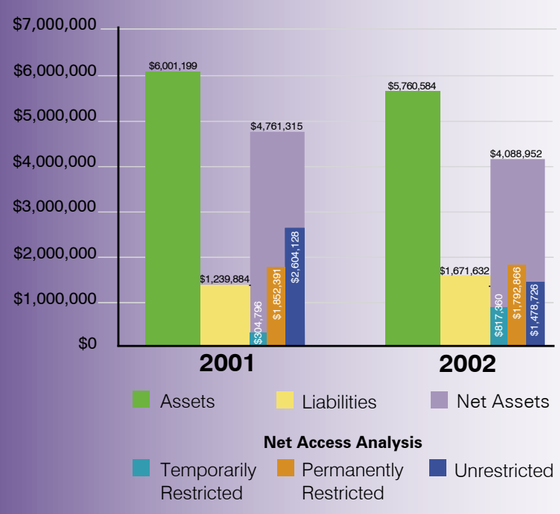
American Camping Association, Inc. Foundation, Inc. • • • Financial Analysis

Year Ended June 30, 2001 and 2002

Fiscal 2002 was a year of opportunities and challenges for the American Camping Association (ACA) and the American Camping Foundation (ACF). Through a 640 thousand dollar grant awarded by Lilly Endowment, Inc. ACA started its first-of-a-kind research on youth development outcomes of the camp experience. This encouraged the ACA to roll the outcomes research into an aggressive 2.5 million dollar campaign (with an additional 2.5 million dollar stretch goal) to advance the understanding and value of the camp experience. The process was begun with preliminary stages of opinion research and improvements in ACA technology. On the other hand, the wake of the September 11th terrorist attacks led both ACA and ACF to take a conservative posture toward all budgetary projections and expenditures during the 2002 fiscal year.

Financial Position Analysis



Because of a change in the accounting methods for dues and fees, driven by auditor recommendations, the unearned dues on the ACA's books at year-end were recalculated, causing a one-time hit of $400,000. In addition, the Foundation donated the endowed contributions and accumulated earnings of the Morry Stein Memorial Fund to Morry's Camp, a 501(c)(3) organization, to be used to finance a permanent site for the camp. These two events caused the first decrease in net assets in over seven years.

The consolidated financial statements of the American Camping Association and American Camping Foundation are audited by BKD, LLP, Indianapolis, Indiana. For a copy of the audited financial statements with footnotes, write to:

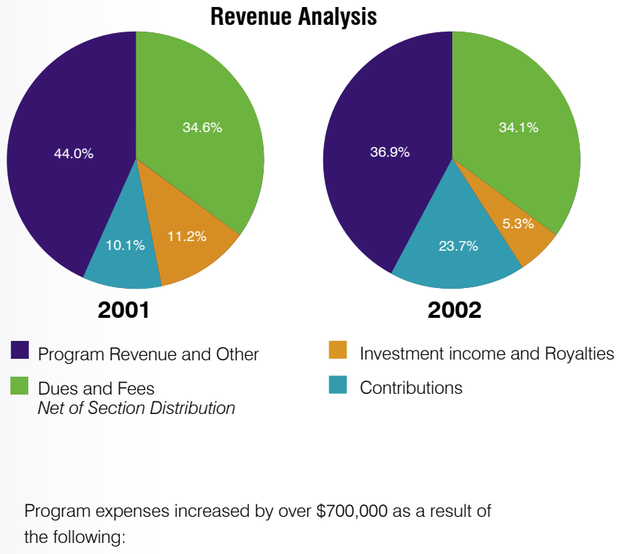
Membership dues and camp fees, net of the section distribution, remain a constant percentage of revenues in the combined budget. Program services were down as the attendance at the annual conference in Washington, D.C., was depressed by terrorism fears, and sales of other ACA products experienced the results of economic belt-tightening. Contributions and grants were up because of the Lilly Endowment grant and pledges for Campaign '07. The promised economic recovery remained elusive, and earnings on investments for the ACA and ACF alike were affected.

Revenue Analysis



Program expenses increased by over $700,000 as a result of the following:

- preliminary opinion research funded by the campaign initiative;
- the first summer of data collection for the outcomes research, funded by the Lilly Endowment grant; and
- nearly $150,000 more in camp scholarships than was awarded in the prior year, all funded with scholarship program contributions.

Acorn Society Members • • • As of December 31, 2002

We are grateful to each member who believes in the purposes of organized camping and who wants to ensure that camp continues as a growing, educational opportunity for those who follow. The Acorn Society is a program to recognize those who include the American Camping Association and/or the American Camping Foundation in their estate planning or make outright gifts to the Endowment Fund. To qualify for the Acorn Society by way of cash contributions requires a minimum contribution of $10,000 payable over a period of not more than five years.

The Acorn Society Dinner is sponsored by generous bequests in memory of Jesse Farrow and by anonymous donors inspired by Jesse's leadership. These donors continue to kindle an enthusiasm among camping's most committed leaders and supporters to make gifts in perpetuity for the future of camping and the American Camping Association.
