Details about the time on the University of Georgia Campus (UGA) on Monday

We invite your help to showcase the great work you are doing around the world. We have invited UGA students to participate in three events to learn more about International Youth Development. We think it will be a fun way to interact with students and also learn more about what each other are doing around the world.

We hope each country will come prepared to share a game and give an update about camp work in your country. The games will be in a gym space (we expect 30-50 people), and the updates will be in an auditorium with a podium and access to computers (we expect 50-60 people).

4:15-5:15 International Play Day Festival

- Dr. Jim Cain will engage UGA students with active Games as they come in the gym. He will provide 10-15 minutes of a Large Group Opening.
- We would then like to have several stations around the gym led our international guests so that students can learn games from other countries. Then at 5:05, Jim will lead a large group closing activity.
- We welcome songs, dances, games, etc. from around the world. We can provide basic supplies such as (balls, ropes, cones, etc.). The goal is to allow UGA students to experience something from other places around the world.

5:30 International Youth Development Showcase Kick-off

Catered-standing Dinner featuring food from around the world—informal conversation time with student, international peers and great food!

6:30 International Youth Development Country Showcase

We invite each country to share information about what is happening with youth development in their country. We can give each country 10 minutes to feature camp videos, PPT, or simple conversation is welcome. Translation can be arranged if given advanced notice if the speaker would like to use their native language.
