

ACA, Oregon Trail acknowledges two award winners each year. Please take a moment to recognize the outstanding individuals and programs in our region and make a nomination now! Nominations are due October 19, 2015.

The Frank M. "Scotty" Washburn Award for Outstanding Service is awarded to an individual or team.

To qualify for nomination, the candidate(s) must:

- 1) Be known for his/her/their outstanding service and leadership in the profession of organized camping.
- 2) Exemplify the best in service, research, teaching, administration, funds development, mentorship and/or leadership within the organized camping profession.
- 3) Have been a member of the American Camp Association for a minimum of two years.

The Phyllis M. Ford Award for Creative Programming is given to an ACA accredited camp or program.

To qualify for nomination, the program must have documented evidence of the development of effective, creative responses to the needs of people using the camp environment. Examples may include, but are not limited to:

- 1) Integrating campers of various physical abilities, ethnic and cultural backgrounds, religions, home environments, etc.
- 2) Developing a program for a camping population not previously marketed to.
- 3) Creating innovative and effective youth, adult, and/or staff development programs.
- 4) Addressing emerging needs of children and teenagers in innovative and effective ways.

Nomination forms for each of these awards can be found below.

Please take time to recognize worthy individuals and camp programs by completing the forms. We know there are many wonderful people and programs that have impacted camping participants in our communities and they deserve to be recognized.

Nomination forms are due October 19, 2015.
Awards will be presented at the Annual Education Event on November 4, 2015.
