

Chocolate and Vanilla (Unusual Talent Contest)

Overview: The team that receives the most number of points for this Unusual Talent Contest wins.

This is a spontaneous team talent contest that takes no prep work ... only guts.

1. Divide the large group into four (4) teams (use a random method).
2. The groups have to think of a name for themselves.
3. Appoint three (3) staff judges.
4. Tell the teams that you, the Game Leader, will announce a category or task. They will have to choose one team member to perform that category or task in front of the judges.
5. Give the teams a short amount of time to choose their performers.
6. Only one (1) Camper can perform per team unless indicated otherwise. No one can go twice until everyone has had a turn (or who wants a turn).

Scoring:

1. Judges will announce a winner of a "round." That winner will receive three (3) points and all the remaining contestants will receive one (1) point.
2. Appoint one of the judges to keep overall score.
