

Fine and Not-So-Fine Dining (but, Oh So Good!)

Hattie B's: <http://hattieb.com/>

Literally, it's what is hot in Nashville. Hot Chicken in a multitude of heat levels.

Check out the best restaurants to see the Nashville skyline from:

<http://www.onlyinyourstate.com/tennessee/nashville/restaurant-views-in-nashville/>

Historic Germantown is a foodie's paradise teeming with James Beard nominated chefs and local cuisine: <http://www.visitmusiccity.com/visitors/neighborhoods/germantown>

If hipster neighborhoods are more your thing check out East Nashville:

<http://nashvilleguru.com/neighborhoods/east-nashville/eat-and-drink>

Many of these top 18 restaurants are located in the downtown area:

<https://nashville.eater.com/maps/best-nashville-restaurants-18>

Local favorite the Pancake Pantry: <https://www.thepancakepantry.com/>

Walking distance to Vanderbilt

Southern comfort food and pretty famous The Loveless Cafe:

<https://www.lovelesscafe.com/>

Biscuits and pie are a favorite.

Home grown and local:

<http://www.visitmusiccity.com/visitors/food/locallysourced>